THE COURT ORDERS:

Discovery

- 1 The parties serve any proposed categories for discovery in the proceeding by 3 April 2020.
- 2 By 17 April 2020, each party is to provide a response in relation to any proposed categories of documents for discovery by that party, indicating:
 - (a) whether it or he agrees to the proposed categories; and
 - (b) to the extent it or he does not agree, why it or he does not agree and any alternative categories of documents it or he agrees to discover.

3 By 1 May 2020:

- (a) the parties are to email the Associate to Hammerschlag J short minutes of order in agreed form setting out any agreed categories for discovery and timetable for discovery in the proceeding, including for agreement on an electronic discovery protocol; or
- (b) if the categories for discovery proposed by any party are not agreed, that party is to file and serve any application for discovery, together with any affidavits in support of any such application, which is to be made returnable on a date, after 29 May 2020, to be determined as being mutually convenient to the parties and the Court.

4 If any party files an application of the kind referred to in Order 3(b) above, the other parties are to file any affidavits in response to it by 15 May 2020.

5 If any party files an application of the kind referred to in Order 3(b) above, that party is to file any affidavits in reply by 22 May 2020.

6 If any party files an application of the kind referred to in Order 3(b) above, each party is to file and serve on every other party any submissions it or he wishes to rely upon by 29 May 2020.

Opt-out process: notices to group members and ancillary orders

7 By 3 April 2020, the plaintiff serve on the defendants proposed notices to group members (“Proposed Notices”) and any proposed orders for the distribution of the Proposed Notices, the date to be fixed by the Court for the closure of the opt out notice period and related matters.

8 By 17 April 2020, the defendants are to provide the plaintiff with their comments on the Proposed Notices and proposed orders.

9 By 1 May 2020:

- (a) the parties are to email the Associate to Hammerschlag J short minutes of order in agreed form setting out proposed orders for the approval and distribution of the Proposed Notices; or
- (b) if the parties cannot agree, the plaintiff is to file and serve any application in respect of the Proposed Notices and any ancillary orders he seeks, together with any affidavits in support of any such application, which is to be made returnable on a date, after 29 May 2020, to be determined as being mutually convenient to the parties and the Court.

- 10 If an application of the kind referred to in Order 9(b) above is filed, the respondents are to file any affidavits in response to it by 15 May 2020.
- 11 If the plaintiff files an application of the kind referred to in Order 9(b) above, he is to file any affidavits in reply by 22 May 2020.
- 12 If the plaintiff files an application of the kind referred to in Order 9(b) above, each party is to file and serve on every other party any submissions it or he wishes to rely upon by 29 May 2020.
